

Get Involved!

Visit the ReFresh Farmer's Market!

Vendors from the neighborhood, local farmers, and community based organizations sell fruits and vegetables, starter plants, pickles, preserves, and more! Every Monday from 4-7pm.

Dance with Us!

Join us for free, drop-in line dancing class in the lobby. Every Wednesday from 1-1:45pm!

Free Kids Programming

Get your kids or grandkids involved! ReFresh offers a free summer camp to neighborhood youth, as well as kids gardening and cooking classes year-round.

Help us plan fun events!

The ReRefresh Community Engagement Committee is led by neighbors like you. We plan fun community events like movie nights, mural painting, and family-friendly gatherings in the garden.

In the Building

First Floor

BoysTown Louisiana

We provide programming for youth and families, which includes Early Head Start, in home family counseling, case management, parenting classes and a residential program for at-risk youth. New Orleans families can access these services right in their own neighborhood. For more information, call Darrell (504) 293-7900 or visit boystown.org.

Liberty's Kitchen

Liberty's Kitchen provides career and leadership skills training for young adults ages 16 to 24. We're also a full service café and catering company focused on quality ingredients, open Monday through Fridays, from 7am to 3pm, and Saturdays from 8am to 2pm. Liberty's Kitchen provides an appetizing breakfast and lunch menu as well as fresh brewed Starbucks coffees. For more information call (504) 822-4011, text (504) 684-5474 or visit libertyskitchen.org.

SPROUT NOLA

We have an outdoor vegetable, herb, and flower garden that offers free youth & adult gardening classes in Spanish & English, as well as opportunities on Monday through Friday to help garden, learn to grow your own food, & take home vegetables for free. For more information, call Emily (740) 504-1181 or visit sproutnola.org.

There are many other great health and wellness organizations in the neighborhood that work with The ReFresh Project.

The Goldring Center for Culinary Medicine

We offer free cooking classes for adults, children and families, focusing on how to make great, affordable food that just happens to be good for you! We also offer learning opportunities for professionals and groups and one-on-one nutrition counseling sessions. For more information, call (504) 988-9108 or visit culinarymedicine.org.

Whole Foods Market

A community focused version of Whole Foods Market with groceries including fresh fruits and vegetables, a hot food bar, catering for parties & events, and job opportunities. We also accept EBT cards. For more information, call (504) 434-3364 or visit wholefoodsmarket.com/stores/broadstreet.

Second Floor

Broad Community Connections

We work to make Broad Street a thriving place for our community's businesses and residents from Bayou Road to Tulane Avenue. Broad Community Connections led the development of the ReFresh Project and manages ReFresh Project programs. For more information, contact Liz (504) 444-2890, liz@broadcommunityconnections.org or visit us at broadcommunityconnections.org.

Crescent City Community Land Trust

CRESCENT CITY
COMMUNITY LAND TRUST

We create and support real estate development projects like affordable housing that provide long-term benefits to the communities of New Orleans. For more information, visit ccclt.org.

FirstLine Schools – Administrative Offices

We run five New Orleans public charter schools for grades pre-K-12 with schools in Tremé, Gentilly, and Uptown. Each school has gifted and special needs programs, as well as the Edible Schoolyard New Orleans program where children learn how to grow food and cook healthy meals. For more information, contact the Communications Team at (504) 267-9038 or visit firstlineschools.org.
